This unit is a netted side for a roll cage or stillage. It has 10 fixing hooks on elasticated cord with reinforced eyelets spaced equally along the 2 long sides. This net is high quality and can take a suitable load but should not be used as a replacement for a steel cage side. The material is tear proof. A key feature is how easy it is to mount in the desired position, and equally demount and then move from unit to unit — a quick, reliable and cost-effective method for load transportation. The net also has an A4 document holder built into itself.

The net can be used to secure loads slightly larger than the footprint of the cage; this should only be done with light/medium loads and capacity should be respected.
